Mike Walden Michigan Point Series

First Racing of the Season

Mike Walden Michigan Point Series
May 18, 2008

Race #1 of the Mike Walden Michigan Points Series kicked off Sunday afternoon, May 18th, with unseasonably cool and windy conditions. With the temp struggling to top 50° F, winds gusting to over 30 mph and the well used legs of the racers who had the day before competed in the Kensington Road Race, the riders unanimously voted to make the day a training race. Training did not mean easy pace, as the 40 lap roll-up demonstrated speed would still be the order of the day. The "AA" riders started with a 16 lap scratch race followed by 30 lap scratch race for the "A" riders (see picture above). A "Miss 'n Out" for all riders was next, followed by a 100 points race.
